KEYNOTES

MONDAY EVENING
OCT 24TH 5:00-6:00PM

Professor Tom Malone
How Hyperconnectivity is Changing the Way We Solve Problems

A presentation from the founding director of the MIT Center for Collective Intelligence, and the author of the fascinating books Superminds, The Future of Work, and Handbook of Collective Intelligence. Groups of people and computers working together can act more intelligently than any person, group, or computer has ever done before – and together they are about to make many more of our most important decisions as the world undergoes a giant digital transformation.

TUESDAY MORNING
OCT 25TH 8:15-9:15AM

Bill Torbert
Action Inquiry, Organizational Learning and Mutual Power

Professor Emeritus of Leadership at Boston College, Founding Co-Director of Global Leadership Associates, and the author of numerous books, Bill Torbert is best known for his pioneering developmental models of leadership, organizational transformation, and social science – named Collaborative Developmental Action Inquiry. CDAI triangulates among first-, second-, and third-person action inquiry and integrates single-, double-, and triple-loop learning at the individual and collective level – most comprehensively presented in his new memoir, Numbskull in the Theatre of Inquiry: Transforming Self, Friends, Organizations, and Social Science.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON
OCT 25TH 5:00-6:00PM

Dr. Steven Hassan
How to Determine the Integrity and Trustworthiness of Spiritual Teachers and Communities

Dr. Hassan is one of the world's foremost experts on mind control, cults and similar destructive organizations. Having served as an advisor to family members, and a thought leader, researcher, and mental health practitioner for many decades, he has devoted his life's work to helping people harmed by such experiences. He directs the Freedom of Mind Resource Center, a counseling and publishing organization outside of Boston, teaches at Harvard Medical School and Brigham and Women's Hospital, and has authored books such as Combating Cult Mind Control. He will discuss how to assess the integrity and trustworthiness of spiritual paths and the hallmarks of mind control organizations.

THURSDAY MORNING
OCT 27TH 8:15-9:15AM

Professor Andrew Szegedy-Maszak
Lessons from the Ancient Greeks and their Gods

The Classic Greek archetypes, mythology, and ancient concepts of time, have all inspired and informed our proprietary Winning from Within Method®, the transformational model and methodology we teach in many of our offerings. We are honored to have Dr. Andrew Szegedy Maszak, Professor of Classical Studies and Historiography at Wesleyan University, bring to life the ancient Greek cosmology and the rich mythic tradition that Western Civilization tradition sources from.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON
OCT 27TH 5:00-6:00PM

(NOT AVAILABLE ONLINE)
Dr. Dionne Wright Poulton
Racial Healing and Harmony

Based on her timely and acclaimed book, It's Not Always Racist...But Sometimes It Is, Dr. Poulton will talk about the difference between racism and racial bias and what we can do to help dismantle systemic racism, how to manage and mitigate our biases, beliefs, and assumptions about others; and what we should do when we make mistakes related to race.

FRIDAY EVENING
OCT 28TH 8:15-9:15AM

Puja Jaspal
Transforming Organizations: The Future of Leadership Development

Named a "Top 100 Women of Influence in the Bay Area" Puja Jaspal is passionate about driving culture change in organizations. Based on her experience as Senior Vice President for People & Communities at Cisco Systems and previously as the SVP of Talent at Visa, she will share her perspective on what it takes to build inclusive, mission-driven and organizational cultures, where no voice is left unheard.
